County Band Association Expects Busy Season

Now in its fourth year of operation the Vulcan County Band is presently giving instruction to 50 musicians, young and old, and is gaining a promising reputation, with each season of practice.

Under the direction of Arthur Dee, the association operates three groups, the beginners which this year number 24, the juniors which number 14 and the senior band which contains a sprinkling of experienced players and those up from the junior level. In the senior band of 31 pieces, eight musicians are in what is jokingly referred to as the "Old pro" category, or with years of experience while the balance are made up of youngsters who have up to four years training.

At least 11 experienced players have moved from town since the band was formed and this leaves a steady need for replacements. For this reason the band is always on the lookout for adults resident in this area who are interested in joining the band.

This fall two of the Pat Roe family, Leta and Doug, joined the senior band as did Christine McLennan and Allan Morseth. Allan is nine years of age, is barely taller than his baritone and is a most promising youngster. As an example of the inconvenience that parents will bear to help their children, Allan's father has spent hours each Wednesday afternoon and evening at the school waiting for Allan to attend junior rehearsal from 3:45 to 5:00 in the afternoon and from 8:00 to 10:30 p.m. for the senior practice, then drive the 16 miles home to the farm on the Lomond road. Arrangements have since been made to have Allan looked after in town until the end of the evening practice.

Also from the Blackie district, Earl Meadows and Jack Thurber regularly bring two experienced members of the Blackie band to rehearsals with them each Wednesday.

In the immediate future the senior band is taking a hand in the organizing of the Carol Festival on Wednesday, Dec. 14 and will present several numbers during the evening.

Already requests are being received for engagements next year. The city of Medicine Hat which asked for the band last year, but had to be refused, would like the band to take part in a parade and celebration next summer.

The band has also been entered in the Southern Alberta Musical Festival next March at Cardston and hopes to arrange a series of programs in the local area in the meantime.

Candlelight Circle Hears Talk On African Missions

The November meeting of the Candlelight Circle was held at the home of Nina Deal with 20 members and four visitors present.

Two hymns were sung and Eileen Nelson led in prayer. Mission money was sent to Wm. Rees in Hong Kong and Carlton Mullings in Jamaica. A bake sale will be held in December in the Legion hall.

Guest speakers for the evening were Pastor and Mrs. J. Lynn. They showed slides and gave a very interesting talk of the missionary work in Kenya, Africa. Several symbolic articles from the people of that country were displayed. The next meeting will be the annual Christmas party in December.

Double Wedding Party Together For 50th Celebration

Two couples who took part in a double wedding ceremony Nov. 20, 1916, celebrated their golden anniversaries together on Sunday, Nov. 20, 1966. They are Mr. and Mrs. Eric Watson, 1436, 18 Ave. N.W., Calgary, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Maxwell, 1903, 19 Ave. N.W., Calgary. The brides are sisters and they were married at their parents' home at Granum. It was an afternoon wedding with a large number of relations and friends attending. The brides were dressed alike with floor-length gowns. They lived with their parents at Granum until their marriages.

The Watsons have lived in the Vulcan district for the past 42 years. They have two children and four grandchildren. The Maxwells have lived in Calgary since 1949. They had four children (the eldest son was killed in the war) and eight grandchildren. The couples celebrated their anniversary with a dinner at the Trade Winds Motor Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell held open house in the evening.

Both couples received congratulations from Premier Manning and Lt.-Gov. McEwen. Guests came from Vulcan, Lethbridge, Claresholm, Blackie and Great Falls, Montana.

Aldersyde Line Grain Loadings Three Times Greater Than '65

Grain movement records in Southern Alberta are being shattered this year. In the Lethbridge division of the CPR the total amount of grain loaded thus far in this crop year, from Aug. 1 to mid-November, is more than double that of last year's record haul.

The two Lethbridge division lines serving the County of Vulcan area are the Aldersyde sub-division, with Vulcan as its main point, and the Lomond sub-division serving the eastern and northern parts of the county.

From Aug. 1 this year to mid-November, on the 87-mile Aldersyde line, the CPR has loaded and moved 2,151 carloads of grain, more than three times the 637 carloads moved in the same period last year. On the Lomond line, the CPR has loaded and moved 752 carloads in the same period, more than double the 366 carloads moved in the same time last year.

In its four Alberta divisions of Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Calgary and Edmonton, the CPR has more than doubled its grain movement over last year's total. In the Lethbridge division alone, 9,726 boxcars were loaded between Aug. 1 and Nov. 16, an increase of 130 per cent over loadings in the comparable period of last year.

At mid-November, 48 of the 91 elevator points in the Lethbridge division were receiving grain on a two-bushel quota and another 22 stations were on a three-bushel quota or higher. On the Aldersyde line, most points are on three- or four-bushel quotas as at the end of November. Disparity in quotas at some points is due to the availability of wheat in grades 3, 4 and 5, for which there is a big export demand at present. Locally, there is a good backlog of lower-grade wheat from previous crops and it is this grain that is being moved.

Most of the wheat harvested this year was No. 2 grade and while little of this is in demand at present, export sales in the next year or two will have to take into account the large amount of No. 2 wheat available.

One of the most important reasons for the improved grain picture is the number of diesel locomotives available for hauling freight trains. In the last year, the CPR has increased its motive power fleet by 43 locomotives, including a number of extra-powerful engines.

Council Approves Two Applications

Mostly routine business occupied Vulcan town council at its November meetings.

Councillors approved an application by Clayton Clarkson to build a frame dwelling on Lots 16-16, Block 36. Contractor is Ron Roy Homes Ltd., Calgary, and estimated cost is $25,000.

Also approved was an application by Noble Blades Sales & Service Ltd., for a provincial retail license to sell fertilizer, farm machinery, electrical appliances and hardware.

Catholic Women's League Plans For Christmas

The St. Andrew's Council of the CWL met in the parish hall on Nov. 9 for the regular meeting. President Margaret J. Shaw conducted the meeting assisted by the secretary Mary Bartman and Father MacCallum. Mrs. Lavern Scott and Mrs. Betty DeJong were welcomed as guests.

A sacred scripture service was held prior to the business meeting. Father MacCallum performed the service assisted by Rose Douville, who read the epistle.

A heavy agenda of business was covered during the meeting. It was decided that a social gathering in the form of a coffee party be held after each 11:30 mass. It was decided that the CWL ladies cater to the Foster-Speer wedding reception. It was also decided to set up a box for little gifts to be donated by the parishioners. The gifts should be suitable for boys or girls of all ages and will be sent to the Providence Creche for Christmas.

A party will be held for the children of the parish Dec. 18, at which the CWL ladies will hold their draw on a Christmas hamper for eight people. A Christmas party for the adults will be held Dec. 11.

The meeting was adjourned by Mrs. Douville. A tasty lunch was served by Alice Scales and Margaret J. Shaw.

Light Horse Members Visit G. Going Ranch

(Held Over From Last Week)
The annual meeting of the Vulcan 4-H Light Horse Club was well attended. Plans were made to have an open Box Social, Friday night at 7:30 in the Kirkcaldy hall. Every girl must bring a basket lunch. It was a most enjoyable meeting as two films were shown for entertainment.

On Sunday, Nov. 20 a tour was made to the Gerry Going Ranch near Black Diamond. Much information was gathered on training and showing horses. As subjects, Mr. Going used his own quarter horses including the cutting stallion, Holly 4 Jinx. The demonstration was given in the Going's indoor arena.

Although a bit chilly everyone had a good time and left for home, keeping in mind that hard work and patience could result in a blue ribbon.

SLEEP NEEDS VARY

The amount of sleep necessary for a good night's rest differs from person to person. An adult can tell whether he is getting adequate rest if he awakens spontaneously at getting up time. If he finds it difficult to arouse himself and probably feels drowsy during the afternoon he should try to increase his sleeping time. Eight hours is usually considered the ideal amount of sleep for adults.

Autumn Newlyweds Follow Careers At Calgary

Joseph Blair performed the ceremony for a very pretty wedding at Bowwood Chapel at Bowness, Sept. 10, 1966, when Miss Shirley Ann Smith, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith of Calgary, became the bride of Vincent Alan Fleming only son of Andrew Fleming and the late Mrs. Fleming of Calgary.

The bride was preceded down the chapel aisle by her niece Miss Wendy Mae Semple, whose bell-shaped floor-length gown was fashioned of sparkle organza in a soft green shade over taffeta. She wore an organza bow in her hair. She carried a bouquet of pink gladiolus.

Following Wendy, walking side by side, were the groom's twin nieces Misses Margaret and Kay Weir each dressed in the same soft green sparkle organza over taffeta, with the bows in their hair, carrying coral gladiolus. Each of the bridesmaids wore a bell drop necklace, a gift of the bride.

The bride entered the chapel on the arm of her father, wearing a bell-shaped gown of white organza over taffeta with applique lace and a chapel train flowing softly behind. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of lace studded with pearls and sequins. Her only ornament was a necklace of black diamonds and brilliants, a gift from the groom. Her bouquet was white gladiolus centered with pink roses. All the bouquets and the baskets of gladiolus flanking the altar were grown by the groom.

The groom was supported by his best man, John Teigen of Calgary. The ushers were Jack Wade of Lyalta and Ornan Huber of Calgary. Ornan Huber presided at the organ and Terry Davis of Vancouver sang two solos: The Lord's Prayer as the bride reached the altar and Thy People Shall Be My People, as the register was signed.

The reception was held at the Lone Pine Supper Club where 168 guests sat down to a turkey dinner. Miss Valerie Blair, niece of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. She was very pretty in a yellow dress of crystal charm with the same band of yellow bows in her hair.

Harry Blair was master of ceremonies. Robert Myers proposed the toast to the bride. The groom very fittingly responded. They then cut the cake which was made and decorated by the bride's mother. Dr. Arthur Stinton gave a message from the scriptures to all present on the responsibility of brides and grooms, whether newly married or of long standing.

For going away the bride wore a three-piece suit of white and blue wool brocade. Her hat was a matching blue and her accessories were navy. Her corsage was pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleming then left for a honeymoon to Waterton, Yellowstone, Craters of the Moon, Idaho, San Francisco, Portland, Victoria and Vancouver. They are making their home in Calgary. Mr. Fleming is employed as photographer for the Shell Oil Co., and Mrs. Fleming is a counselor for Mount Royal College.

Champion-Nanton Principals In Autumn Wedding

The Champion United Church Mr. and Mrs. Eric Florence of Nanton. Baskets of gladiolus decorated the front of the church, guest pews were marked with gold and ivory colored satin bows. The wedding was conducted by

Rev. W. Huston and Rev. B. Fyke. Mrs. Winnie Carlson played the organ while Cathy Hodgson of Claresholm was the soloist, the song being "Wedding Hymn."

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father wore a floor-length sheath dress of beige wool lace over taffeta. A pretty batteau neckline, elbow-length sleeves and a train that draped from the shoulders enhanced the gown. Her four tiered veil of illusion net was held in place by a lace crown. She carried a bouquet of light yellow and bronze gladiolus and mums.

Matron of honor was Miss Lorraine Nowlin. The bride's sister Linda was the junior bridesmaid, while her sister Laura was the flower girl. They were all identically attired in gold satin empire style floor-length gowns with matching gold satin head pieces. They carried bouquets of ivory and bronze mums.

Roger Florence of Medicine Hat was the best man at his brother's wedding. Albert Florence, also a brother and Doug Johnson of Claresholm shared the duties of ushering the guests to the pews. Mrs. Ted Hames chose for her daughter's wedding a jade green wool nylon suit with pale pink hat and gloves and a corsage of dark pink roses. Mrs. Eric Florence was attired in a pale green lace dress, complemented with black accessories and a corsage of pale pink roses.

Guests numbering 120, attended the reception in the community hall which was suitably decorated. The head table was graced by a beige and soft orange and brown wedding cake made by the bride's mother and decorated by her aunt, Mrs. B. Penn of Claresholm.

Roger Florence was the master of ceremonies. The toast to the bride was given by Rev. W. Huston and replied to by the groom. Open house was held at the bride's home after the wedding. A wedding dance was held later in the evening in the community hall.

Guests at the wedding came from Lethbridge, Nanton, Claresholm, Los Angeles, Medicine Hat, Vulcan, Edmonton, Calgary, Empress and Bindloss.

For her honeymoon trip to Ontario the bride donned a green tweed suit with matching hat, brown purse and gloves. Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Florence are residing at Guelph, Ontario.

Double-ring Wedding At Creston United Church

A wedding of interest to this district took place in Trinity United Church, Creston, B.C., Nov. 12, uniting in marriage with a double-ring ceremony, Judith Ann, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stager, to Rodrick Andre (Andy) Smith, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith of Rocky Mt. House, Alberta. The radiant bride entered the church on the arm of her father wearing a white brocaded taffeta gown fashioned in A-line with empire waist. The bodice was of white lace with lily point sleeves. A short flowing train added to its simple beauty. The soft shoulder length veil was held in place by three brocade rolled roses. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and bronze and yellow mums. Her only jewellery was pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

Maid of honor was Miss Carol Peterson of Calgary. Other attendants were Miss Linda Bateman, cousin of the bride from Kirkcaldy, and Miss Marie Beattie of Creston. All wore identical street length dresses of chiffon velvet in a beautiful shade of autumn gold. Small hats of rolled velvet roses and brown accessories completed their ensembles. They carried cascade bouquets of bronze mums and pine with gold satin bows. Roy Brosinsky of Willington, Alta.

acted as best man, with Ron Cook of Rocky Mt. House and Reg Hamilton of Drayton Valley as supporting attendants. Ushers were Allan Cook of Rocky Mt. House and Gordon Stager, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother chose a suit of royal blue wool tailored by the bride as were the bridesmaids' dresses and her own gown. Mrs. Stager wore pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother chose a two-piece dress of cranberry red lace over taffeta. Her corsage was white carnations. Organist Mrs. Edna Fraser played appropriate music during the signing of the register. A reception followed in the United Church hall. The bride's table, decorated with fall flowers and candles, was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake made by the bride's mother. The many out of town guests included those from Vancouver and Enderby, B.C., Lethbridge, Calgary, Rocky Mountain House, Willington, Red Deer, Kirkcaldy, Alberta and Carrot River, Sask.

On return from a honeymoon to US points the young couple will make their home at Cynthia, Alta., where the groom is employed by Texaco Explorations of Canada.

Wheat Movement Good

Most elevator points in this county are now on three- or four-bushel quotas and grain is moving out to the west coast terminals at a steady pace. The export demand is still for grades 3, 4 and 5 wheat, of which there is still a good supply, carried over from previous years' crops.

There is some demand, also, for No. 1 wheat. The bulk of this year's crop was No. 2 wheat and this grade will have to be sold for export when the lower grade supplies are cleaned out and this will be the Wheat Board's problem.

Last year, from Aug. 1 to Nov. 17, 517 loaded grain cars were shipped out of Vulcan, which is about three times the normal number shipped in that period. Grain cars have also been in good supply this fall—grain buyers are "quite happy" with the situation at present and are hopeful that grain will keep moving at the present steady pace during the winter months.

Anglican Ladies Guild Elects Officers

The November meeting of the Anglican Ladies Guild was held in the church hall at which time the election of officers took place.

The new executive took their places as follows: President, Mrs. Arthur Fitzpatrick; vice-president, Mrs. Allan McAskie; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Bob Johnston; sick committee and publicity, Mrs. Bill Babuk.

A special vote of thanks was given Mrs. Fitzpatrick who again accepted the position of president of the Guild and who gives so much time and devotion to the church. A busy evening was spent making final plans for the annual Christmas tea-bake sale. It was decided to hold the event in the church basement this year. Plans were made for a bridal shower honoring Marilyn Joiner, Dec. 5.

An appreciative thanks was given the men of the vestry for the fresh new coat of paint they have given the church basement.

The December meeting will be cancelled and the next regular meeting will be held Jan. 18 at the home of Mrs. Don Buehler.

A tasty lunch was served by hostess Mrs. Laycock at the conclusion of the evening.

T.V. FARM SHOW

Every week day at 12:30 noon, the TV Station at Lethbridge, C.J.L.H.-TV provides time for an agricultural show. The programs are arranged by the district agriculturists in Southern Alberta. Each show runs about 10 minutes. Next week, the program will be on Water Resources. The following week, Sheep and Swine; and Soil Fertility, the week after and so on. Every program probably won't be vitally important to you and your farm, but many will be of interest. So if you can receive C.J.L.H.-TV tune us in at 12:30 noon, every weekend.

WHAT TO EXPECT FROM CROSSBRED CATTLE

A few weeks ago Dr. L. J. Sumption of the Research Station at Lethbridge gave a very interesting summary of recent information about crossbreeding. Dr. Sumption said that the basic reasons for interest in this subject is the potential of crossbreds for feeders.

There have been many more crossbred calves produced recently which are producing beef more efficiently.

The advantages of crossbreeding are strongest up to weaning time. That is, a crossbred calf if handled the same way as a straight bred calf will be bigger at weaning. You will have to start feeding the crossbred calf earlier if you want to have them finished at an acceptable weight.

If you're a feeder, you can estimate how a crossbred calf will produce as it will be near the average of its parents.

To increase production many producers are breeding crossbred cows to a bull of a third breed. An example would be a Hereford-Angus cow bred to a Charolais. The crossbred cow has advantages over straight bred cows such as high milking capacity, reduction of some diseases and she passes these advantages on to the crossbred calf. The disadvantage of the crossbred cow is the requirement for two herds of cows in order to produce your own female replacements. But more about that later.

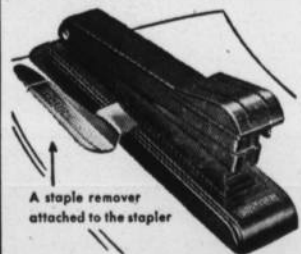

It appears that crossbreeding will be an advantage to the straightbred cattle man, if his stock is of good quality. The cattleman who does not have good breeding stock to offer could find himself at a considerable disadvantage.

A.I. and producers specifically producing crossbred cows for replacement purposes will soon make planned crossbreeding within the reach of any commercial beef producer.

The most recent data I have available shows that on a test of 200 each of crossbred and straight bred steers, the crossbred steers weighed 16% more at 200 days. These crossbred steers weighed 30% more as yearlings. The advantage for crossbred heifers was even higher. The net merit was $8.81 in favor of crossbred steers. That is the retail value of the animal — the feed cost of the crossbred was $8.81 more than the straight bred steer.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Nurses Home,
Essex County Hospital,
Colchester, England.

Editor, The Vulcan Advocate.

Dear Sir:

Presently, I am a resident of the Nurses' Home, Essex County Hospital in Colchester, England, and am embarking on a four-year nurses' training course.

Over the past two years I have seen the whole of Canada, Germany and England. As I travelled and met the different peoples with their various conventions, I compared them with the people I have known from home. The Germans, with their too much adhered-to customs and the reserved English are, however, no match for the good Vulcanites.

Here in Colchester, I have made many, many wonderful friends and they are constantly asking questions about my "home." Proudly I tell them about Vulcan and my friends. So as the old adage goes, "There is no place like home." I sincerely hope that you will find this of enough interest to print. Also would you convey the sincerest of Yuletide greetings to Vulcan and especially the Dann family from Marie and all her "limey room-mates." Thank you.

Yours truly,
Marie Dann.

COUNTY CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL HI-LIGHTS

Saturday, Nov. 26, will be a date remembered by this year's Senior volleyballers. The boys turned the key of success and wound up as this year's county champions in volleyball. The boys defeated Milo and Lomond to attain championship. The girls narrowly missed the trophy as Milo just edged them out. The tournament was held on Nov. 26.

In basketball, the boys also reigned victorious. The boys defeated Cayley in a very close game. Cayley edged out CCHS every quarter but the last. CCHS boys won 70-49. High scorer for CCHS was captain Randy Carruthers. Good luck boys and I hope you continue to win.

The girls were edged out by the Cayley girls. The game was disappointing in that it appeared that CCHS girls had outplayed Cayley. We all wish you good luck girls.

Perhaps the most promising adventure of CCHS is the formation of the junior and senior newspapers. The senior high "Sounding Post" is edited by Gloria Cormier and Joyce Hagedorn. Penny Hiltz and Susan Gerding edit the junior high "Bits and Pieces." The "Sounding Post" is to be published bi-monthly. It informs students of the latest school happenings and events. Good luck to all supporters!

The Variety Nite committee has been set up and auditions are being held on Friday. The Variety Nite is a social gathering featuring school talent. It is a fun-packed evening enjoyed by all.

Curling teams are being drawn up by the newly-elected committee of Randy Carruthers, President; Lloyd Sokvite, vice-president; and Lynda Dana, secretary.

SHELLMOUTH DAM TAKES SHAPE: The concrete conduit for regulation of flow downstream from the Shellmouth Dam is nearing completion, while construction of the main embankment continues. This dam will be one of the key structures in the control of flooding along the Assiniboine River from Brandon to Winnipeg. The dam will restrain about 430,000 acre-feet of spring runoff water for release during periods of low flow. The dam is situated at the confluence of the Shell and Assiniboine Rivers near Russell, Man., and is being built under PFRA supervision.

VULCAN CLERICS' CORNER

This Week's Contributor: Rev. W. MacCallum

The other day I had the important part of a church is people. Without people, the thing isn't even a "church" in a real sense. Christian people don't build temples. Temples were (and are) built to impress. They are monuments. Christians put up buildings to house the "church" or "assembly." The Church (big C) is people. The building that houses is of equal importance. The most Ideally, a Christian church is simple and tastefully decorated to emphasize (yet not over-emphasize) the worship which all created things owe to their Maker. It should be the meeting place of every human skill that can glorify God. In many Christian churches (Catholic ones taking more than their share) the decoration is overdone and the simplicity aspect is entirely neglected. This abuse is being slowly corrected.

A couple of Hebrew words might aid in our understanding of the houses of worship we erect. My church (because I am a Christian) is not a holy-of-holies where the divine "Shekinah" shows the presence of God by means of a miraculous cloud or glow of fire. Since I am a Christian, my church turns rather to the business of making God present in my daily life. It is a Beth-lehem or "house of bread" where two kinds of nourishment are received and shared. There is the bread of God's Word. My church must have a pulpit and a Bible. There is the bread of Thanksgiving or Eucharist. My church must have an altar whereon this Bread is consecrated, and which the people approach to share in it.

Add a baptismal where people are initiated into the assembly, and you have your Christian church. Nothing more is needed, except to make it comfortable and hospitable for the people who are its heart and soul.

REPORT FROM
Parliament Hill
(By Lawrence E. Kindt, M.P.)

FINAL WHEAT BOARD PAYMENT

Many letters, telegrams and phone calls have been received from farmers in the Macleod riding, asking when the Wheat Board intends to make the final payment on wheat. Some farmers are worried for fear two payments from the Wheat Board might be made the same year which would prevent them from selling cattle this fall because of receipts all coming in the same tax year and thus disorganizing income tax payments.

This matter was brought to the attention of the Minister of Trade and Commerce, on the floor of the House of Commons, who is now responsible for the Wheat Board. The question was asked: "Would the Minister now be in a position to tell the House what will be the approximate date of the final payment by the Wheat Board?" The Minister answered: "I understand that the books will be closed as of November 30th, and then the accounting procedures, which are rather onerous, will commence. The Wheat Board now anticipates that some time during the month of January, the final payment will be made, probably toward the end of the month."

This statement was confirmed by Robert Esdale, of the Department of Trade and Commerce, who speaks for the Wheat Board, and, so, my understanding is that the final payment will be made sometime after the beginning of the new year.

Shirley Lynne Burns Wed At Calgary Ceremony

St. Pious X, Roman Catholic church in Calgary was the scene of the marriage, Oct. 29th of Shirley Lynne Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burns of Carmangay to John Joseph Fillion of Calgary, son of Mrs. Alma Fillion and the late Joseph Fillion of Radville, Sask.

Rev. Father Curran officiated at the double-ring ceremony and the altar was adorned with baskets of white chrysanthemums and pink carnations.

Mrs. Lee Baldwin was organist and during the signing of the register Mrs. Don Telletson, cousin of the bride sang "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of white bridal satin had a round neckline and short sleeves, the floor-length full skirt was further enhanced by a long train of bridal satin which fell softly from the waist. She also wore a bodice-length jacket of chantilly lace with three-quarter-length sleeves. Her head piece was a crown of delicate white satin roses from which flowed her dainty shoulder length veil which was trimmed with tiny seed pearls. Her only jewellery was a gold cross locket, a gift from the groom. She carried a bouquet of red roses from which cascaded white velvet streamers adorned with sweetheart roses.

Attending the bride were Miss Verna Baldwin as maid of honor and Miss Marilyn Baldwin as bridesmaid. They wore identical floor-length gowns of gold peau de sole and their head pieces were fashioned of small gold peau de sole roses. They carried bouquets of yellow carnations.

Attending the groom were his brothers Gerald Fillion of Calgary and Ernest Fillion of Saskatoon, Sask. Ushers were Len Taylor and Alfred Akins.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Burns chose a rose wool suit with navy accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses. The mother of the groom wore a blue silk dress with black accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses.

A supper reception was held at the Golden Age Club in Bowness. The bride's table was set with an ecru lace cloth and centered by a three-tiered wedding cake. Don Tillitson was master of ceremonies and Emil Reiter, uncle of the bride said the grace. A vocal duet "Always" was rendered by Verna and Marilyn Baldwin and Mrs. Don Tillitson sang "Because."

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a two-piece suit of rose wool with gold and black accessories and a corsage of talisman roses. After a honeymoon in Banff the couple will make their home in Calgary.

Have you ever wondered...

...what happens to the profits made by the province of Alberta treasury branches?

After all operating costs have been paid, these profits (over $5 million in the last six years) are turned over to the General Revenue Fund of the Alberta Government to help pay for the cost of running the Province. In addition to this, a Treasury Branch reserve fund has been built up to more than $4 million. A self-supporting business enterprise, the Treasury Branches make no loans from government accounts. Loans made to assist in the financial and industrial growth of the Province come entirely from the money deposited by the people of Alberta.

...who should be concerned about Alberta's "neglected children"?

YOU should be. It is the duty of every Albertan to help prevent any child from being harmed through neglect or ill-treatment and, under the terms of The Child Welfare Act, it is obligatory to report such action to the authorities. In this case, the authorities are the Child Welfare Branch of the Alberta Department of Public Welfare, as this department gradually assumes all responsibilities for child protection within the Province. It is expected that the transfer of these duties from the Municipal to Provincial authorities will be completed by the end of this year, except in Edmonton and Calgary where the change will not be completed for two years.

...who administers Alberta's new towns before there is even a population?

Many of Alberta's new towns must be carved out of the bush and a wilderness must be turned into a habitable area with streets, water, sewer and power, even before the population starts to arrive. This takes money and people and, in most cases, arrangements for both are supplied by the Municipal Inspection Branch of the Alberta Department of Municipal Affairs. Loans of up to one million are available from the Provincial Treasurer for the development of a new town-site and experts from the Branch form a Board of Administrators which will oversee the growth of the town until the population and prospects become sufficient for the local residents to assume control.

...why you can't fish with live bait in Alberta?

Any fisherman who puts that enticing little wriggler on his hook may be unknowingly taking the first step in replacing the trout in his favorite fishing spot with completely undesirable fish. If the live bait goes free to grow and spawn, these undesirable species will soon crowd the trout into extinction, thereby destroying sport fishing in that location. To maintain Alberta angling, the Fish and Wildlife Division, Department of Lands and Forests, plant two to three million trout in Provincial waters each year. Half a million of these are yearlings, seven to eight inches long, the rest, fingerlings. This year, plants were made in 11 children's ponds, 105 lakes and reservoirs, 91 beaver ponds, 13 locations where spawning does not take place, and 3 fish-populated areas where new species were introduced.

...who measures Alberta?

Before homesteaders can move in, before communities can be started or subdivisions built or roads constructed, the land has to be measured and boundary monuments established. To see that this is done properly is the job of the Surveys Branch of the Alberta Department of Highways. In addition to being responsible for the establishment of base lines and surveying of townships and highways, the Branch has direction over all surveying done in the Province under the Alberta Surveys Act, and examines all plans of survey to ensure their compliance with that Act. The results of all this work are recorded on plans which are registered in the Land Titles Office and subsequently reflected in a variety of maps produced by the Mapping Division of the Surveys Branch.

...who's fighting the war on weeds?

Alberta farmers wouldn't have much chance of winning their war against weeds if the enemy could keep calling up reinforcements from untended roadsides and abandoned lands. To keep weeds down in these "no man's lands", the Weed Control Section of the Plant Industry Division, Alberta Department of Agriculture, supplies ammunition to municipalities and to individual farmers. Effective weed control chemicals are provided at cost to municipal authorities and at less than cost to farmers to encourage them to eliminate patches of dangerous weeds in uncultivated ground. A special spraying program kills weeds along roadsides and these areas are kept free of weeds by sowing appropriate mixtures of grass seed supplied to the municipalities by the Provincial government.

District Home Economist

Dear Homemakers,

Here are two valuable household hints from one of Alberta's District Home Economists, Marilyn Oke.

The first concerns unshrinking woollens. Dissolve 1 ounce of borax in one teaspoonful of hot water and add the mixture to 1 gallon of luke warm water. Immerse the garment in the solution and pull it gently into shape. Then rinse it in 1 gallon of warm water to which 2 tablespoonfuls of vinegar have been added.

The second hint concerns cleaning ovens. Dissolve 2 heaping tablespoonfuls of lye in 1/2 cup of cold water in a glass jar. Dissolve level tablespoonful of flour in 1/2 cup of cold water in another glass jar. Mix the two together, stirring them all the time. Then paint the solution on the inside of the oven with a brush and leave it for an hour. Use rubber gloves!

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Walker, who recently returned from a two-week holiday at Phoenix, Arizona, are presently caring for the Pat Walker farm home, while Pat is in a Calgary hospital.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

The marriage is announced of Joanna Margaret Porter, B.A., only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Mr. McClain is also proud of the fact that he had never had an accident or complaint in all his years' service. He was presented with a beautifully engraved silver tray in recognition of his many years service.

the 30,000 population and under bracket, in the cross-Canada competition. The grand prize of a car in the weight guessing contest, which was part of the Carousell week, was won out of the province but local winners were Allan Sim, Vulcan; Leslie Robertson, Milo, and E. G. McPherson, Vulcan.

Three other store winners in higher population centres were from Ontario and Quebec so it speaks well of the effort put forth by the local staff in being the lone Western Canadian hardware among the prize winners. Present staff at Wolfe's is John Wolfe, Ray Wellman, Bill Salvage and Lil Hostetler.
